POPPING FOR BOOKS!

We recently acquired a very cool popcorn machine and along with it a FANTASTIC idea!! Why not provide bags of popcorn in exchange for donations in the month of February and use all proceeds to purchase books for the four Forest City School Libraries?! ...

... and that is PRECISELY what we are going to do! Starting Friday, February 4th we will make popcorn every day and provide a donation jar for you to help us fill. On top of THAT ... $2 from every bag of KETTLE CORN sold in February will go towards the donation of these books!

Bookadee's goal is to provide one book per school-year-month to each one of the four libraries. That means a whopping 36 books per year! WOW!! That does sound FANTASTIC!

Help us reach our goals to help out our school libraries AND help us eat the popcorn!

... Help us 'POP FOR BOOKS!'

AMEN! TO THIS ...

Michael Herrmann, owner of Gibson's Bookstore, Concord, suggested that the emergence of e-books has been overestimated: "Think about all of those books you've enjoyed, or maybe not enjoyed so much. Looking at your bookshelf and seeing all those books evokes all of these memories. How can you do that with e-books? There is no soul to it. That is my view."

"I just finished reading How Reading Changed My Life by Anna Quindlen ($10). It's only 84 pages, but every word on every page spoke to me. Have you ever read her? If you haven't, you should. She writes like a reader. A very well-read reader. I only disagree with her on Anna Karenina, which made her list of books she would save from a fire.

I thought about taking one of her lists and setting a goal to read everything on it. Each list has 10 books, and I've read a few on each list, so I'd have a head start. But I'm more tempted to make my own Anna Quindlen list, picking from each of her lists. Here goes.

- Gone with the Wind by Margaret Mitchell
- Sophie's Choice by William Styron
- Silent Spring by Rachel Carson
- The Second Sex by Simone de Beauvoir
- The Golden Notebook by Doris Lessing
- The House of Mirth by Edith Wharton
- Betsy in Spite of Herself by Maud Hart Lovelace
- Anne of Green Gables by Lucy Maud Montgomery
- The BFG by Roald Dahl

- A Wrinkle in Time by Madeline L'Engle
- Rebecca by Daphne du Maurier
- The Group by Mary McCarthy
- Scoop by Evelyn Waugh
